Our programs are at the center of our community.

Minis:

Open to students in grades 5-9 interested in in-school lessons.

Studios:

Open to students in grades 5-8 interested in outside-of-school-time courses.

Summer Intensives:

1 week long summer camps for students finishing grades 5-8

Youth Advisory Board:

Leadership opportunity for students in grade 9 who work to help Arts Greenhouse provide quality arts and humanities programs to local students.

PARTNER WITH US

Who We Serve:

- Host site is within an ~7-mile radius from Carnegie Mellon University's main campus
- A designated Title 1 school OR 50% of students are identified as economically disadvantaged
- At least 25% of the student population identify as non-white
- Organizations serving communities that fall into the previous criteria

OUR GROWTH

Since The Beginning:

We were founded to serve youth with a lack of educational equity due to racial or socio-economic disparities.

Our Newest Milestones:

- reached 150+ students across Pittsburgh
- piloted summer programs for grades 5-8
- founded a Youth Advisory Board

“Over its decade and a half of existence, Arts Greenhouse has expanded to include a focus on social justice, on civil rights, and on the role of music and the arts in historical movements.”-Judith Schachter, co-founder
